OVERVIEW

The opportunity

We propose to design and build a private, two-part product: an elegant iPhone application for you, and a secure web studio for your wardrobe staff. Together they turn a large personal collection into something effortless to search, plan, wear and care for, with privacy and discretion built into every layer.

LOOK & FEEL

The client application · iPhone

Editorial, calm and tactile. Designed to feel like a private atelier in the palm of your hand. A few representative screens:

Today

The day's weather, a suggested look and quick links to plan.

Search

Browse with filters by category, colour, brand and fabric.

Builder

Tap any zone on the figure to add a piece from that category.

Item

Full imagery, brand & colour, with the option to start a look.

Planner

Plan by morning, afternoon or evening; review what was worn.

Insights

Most- and least-worn pieces and overall wardrobe usage.

The staff studio · web

A focused dashboard for your team to upload, tag, plan, prepare and track, never seen by anyone outside your household. A few representative screens:

Upload & tag

Bulk-upload photos; each is enriched and queued as a draft for staff to review and approve.

Wardrobe

The full digital wardrobe: every item with imagery, category and care data, searchable and filterable.

Outfit planner

Assign outfits to dates across month and day views; click any day to see the planned look.

Hanger scan

Scan a hanger's QR code to confirm its contents and pull up care & composition from the label.

A feel, not the full set. These screens are a representative sample to convey the look and feel of the application; they are not every page. The complete app includes further screens such as voice styling, sharing & voting, staff management, the activity dashboard and more.

INTELLIGENT FEATURES · COUTURE

Smart by design

On the Couture tier, photos are analysed automatically to extract type, colour, fabric, brand and pattern; clothing labels are read to capture care and composition. A recommendation engine learns from what is worn and loved, and the conversational assistant lets you style by simply speaking, powered by leading vision and language models, integrated securely. On Essential and Signature, staff tag items by hand and the same wardrobe, planning and collaboration features apply.

Three tiers

Fixed project price for design & build. Every tier includes bespoke design & branding and delivers both the iPhone app and the staff studio. They differ in breadth of features, the intelligent (AI) capabilities, and how much flexibility you have to change direction late in the build.

Where the AI lives. All intelligent features, automatic photo tagging, label scanning, outfit generation, recommendations and the voice assistant, are part of the Couture tier. Essential and Signature deliver the full wardrobe, planning and collaboration experience with staff tagging items by hand. Couture also removes revision limits and commits us to your crunch dates, so late changes never threaten the September move-in.

How changes work

Essential

Two revision rounds per milestone. Further changes are quoted as change-requests and scheduled so they never risk the deadline.

Signature

Five revision rounds per milestone, plus one larger mid-project scope swap included at no charge.

Couture

Unlimited revisions with guaranteed crunch delivery. Change features up to the final moment; we hold the deadline.

Bugs are always free. Any defect, at any time on any tier, is fixed at no charge as part of your maintenance plan. You never pay to make something work as intended.

AFTER LAUNCH

Maintenance, hosting & ongoing work

Your privacy, in plain terms

This app is built for you alone, and keeping your information private is the starting point, not an afterthought. In short: your data stays in Europe, only people you invite can see it, you can have it all deleted whenever you ask, and the studio can sign a confidentiality agreement. Below is what that means, without the jargon.

Where your information is kept

- Stored on secure, well-known cloud services based in Europe (Ireland & Germany)
- It never leaves the region you choose, and we can put that in writing
- Everything is scrambled (encrypted) so that even if a file were intercepted, it can't be read
- Safe backup copies are kept in case of any technical problem

Who can see it

- Access is invitation-only: there is no public sign-up, and strangers cannot find or join
- Each staff member only sees what their role needs
- The app keeps a simple record of who did what, and when
- We can remove anyone's access instantly the moment you ask

It's your data, and you can delete it

- Everything in the app belongs to you; we only ever handle it on your instruction
- Ask, and we will permanently delete any or all of it, or hand you a full copy
- You decide how long things are kept
- We follow UK and EU privacy law, with a written agreement to back it up

Kept confidential

- The studio can sign a confidentiality agreement (NDA)
- We tell you exactly which outside services are involved, and you approve them
- Access is invitation-only, with every action logged and revocable at any time
